Subject: Microsoft settlement

To whom it may concern,

As a consumer and a computer professional, I am very unhappy with the proposed settlements of the Microsoft anti-trust case. Both settlements are insufficient punishment for Microsoft's behavior.

I know that, as both a consumer and a computer professional, I have been harmed by Microsoft's behavior. I can give two examples.

My main line of work is currently with Lotus products. Due to Microsoft leveraging its operating system monopoly to distribute its inferior Internet-related products, I have fewer career opportunities than I might otherwise.

As a consumer, I am practically forced to use Microsoft's e-mail clients.

I believe that Microsoft should be fined very heavily, on the order of $1 million or more, for their behavior.
